

Journalists frequently disagree with the president's policies. (D+)

The government switched from paper ballots to electronic voting machines. (N)

About half of the country's registered voters do not turn out to vote in legislative elections. (N)

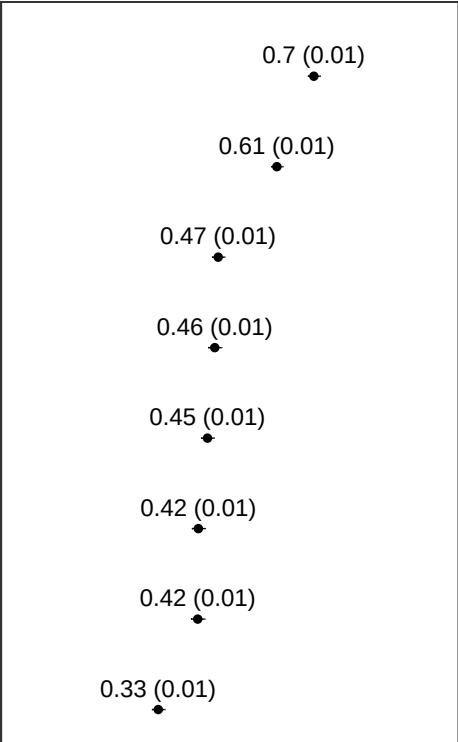

A candidate promised an increase in welfare benefits to attract voters. (N)

The legislature changed the electoral system from proportional to majoritarian representation. (N)

The country's legislature passed a law that bans sitting presidents from running for re-election. (N)

The military overthrew a corrupt government. (D-)

Candidates from the incumbent party use government resources when campaigning for re-election. (D-)

Mean rating of statement